POSTOJNA CAVE:

Discover the mysterious underground world of Postojna Cave, which was first described in the 17th century and was ready to be visited more than 200 years ago.

While riding a special electric train and walking through the cave, you will get to know the most famous and special cave creature - the human fish and explore the beautiful underground passages and galleries with spectacular stalactites, stalagmites, limestone curtains and other natural stone forms.

PREDJAMA CASTLE:

In the idyllic village of Predjama lies a fairy-tale medieval stone castle, which has stood in the middle of a 123-meter-high cliff for more than 800 years. The castle is special because it is built into the rock on the half slope of the hill and is well known for the legend of the knight Erasmus - "Slovenian Robin Hood".

Inside the castle you can see various original objects and hear an impressive story of a natural vertical shaft (secret passage) with an exit at the top of a cliff used by the knight Erasmus.

Interesting fact: Predjama Castle is listed in the Guinness Book of Records as the largest cave castle in the world!

PIRAN:

After visiting Postojna Cave and Predjama Castle, we will drive towards the Slovenian coast full of impressions. Past the coastal towns of Koper, Izola and Portorož to the popular medieval town of Piran.

A guided walk through a charming and picturesque Mediterranean city with narrow cobbled streets, galleries, hidden corners and unique houses. The town is located on a peninsula with a lighthouse at the most exposed point and the church of St. Jurij, which lies above the old town, has its own special look that you will not find anywhere else in the world.

Piran is known as one of the oldest cities in Slovenia and the remains of the Piran walls are just one of the sights that prove it.

It is definitely worth mentioning the most famous and at the same time the oldest house on Tartini Square - "Venetian", built in the 15th century. The house and its famous balcony carry a romantic story of forbidden love.
